TEAM PICKED TO DEBATE AGAINST CAMBRIDGE MEN

John T. Trimble Again Named As Member of International Debate Trio

FORMER CONTEST LOST

Is Fourth Meeting With English Speakers, G. W. Winning Victory Twice

Tryouts for the debating team that is to meet the Cambridge University trio on November 29 in the University Gymnasium were held in Stockton Hall last Friday night. Two teams were picked, each with three members. The first team consists of John T. Trimble, who was a member of the team which defeated Cambridge last year, William F. Williamson and James R. Kirkland. The second team is composed of William R. Ogg, Edward Gallagher and Miss Ruth Newburn.

Twelve students tried out before the judges. Only members of the teams of previous years were eligible, others being required to wait until after the international debate before they can try out for team places. Rev. George Farnham, newly installed head of the Public Speaking department of the University, pastor of the Cleveland Park Congregational Church and a graduate of the University of Iowa, is the new debating coach.

Professors Judge

Speaking on the subject "Resolved, That this House oppose the growing tendency of government to invade the rights of individuals," the debaters argued before Prof. Hall, Prof. Col-

UNIVERSITY SONGS PUBLISHED IN BOOK

Prizes Offered For Words to Fit Music of Song Included in Selections

For the first time in history, George Washington is to have a book of songs, containing a varied group of selections, collected and revised from George Washington songs of the past and published under an attractive cover of buff and blue, designed by Professor Crandall of the Architectural department. The editors hope to add to the collection from time to time as additional songs are written. Proceeds from the sale will be devoted to the advancement of vocal and instrumental musical activities.

"George Washington Songs," which is the title of the book, contains ten selections, the first of which has no words. The words will be supplied by the winner of the contest which is being conducted in connection with the sale of the book. Every copy includes directions and an entrance blank. Judges for the contest have not been selected but it is believed that preference will be given to songs in colloquial campus English. Prizes of $25, $10, and $5 are offered for the three best songs. The contest closes December 1.

The book includes: "George Washington Victorious," by Arthur F. Johnson; "The Buff and Blue," by Eugene Sweeney; "Alma Mater," by Maria Montej Davidson; "Hall George Washington," by W. T. Bartholomew; "Evening Song," by Norris I. Crandall; "Hymn to Washington," by Anna L. Rose; "George Washington," by George Guy Garman; "Alumni Song," by Alexis P. Luoff; and "Our George Washington," by Clara Weems Steiner. The last named recently won the John Bell Lerner prize for an Alma Mater song.

DR. MICHELSON FINDS INDIANS ARE STILL SUN WORSHIPPERS AT HEART

Ancient Customs Are Retained By Fox Indian Tribe Despite Christian Education; Warriors Still Believe In The Magic Powers of "War Packs"

Christianity among the Indians is only skin deep, according to the results of Dr. Michelson's extensive study of the Iowa Fox Indians last summer. Although they are ostensibly all Christians, they retain their old religious customs practically in their entirety. During the month of June Dr. Michelson was present at the great Sun Festival of this tribe which originated as a ceremony of worship to the Sun god, and has been continued in spite of altered religious beliefs. This dance is a very picturesque one, as are most of the Indian ceremonies. It is performed only by the men of the tribe and consists chiefly of rhythmic movements in time to the beating of many drums.

Some of the strangest customs of any Indian tribe have been preserved among the Foxes. They are intensely jealous of their collection of treaties, medals, trophies, and scraps of information which they do not in the least understand, but which nevertheless have the highest value in their eyes. Outsiders are not allowed to see their greatest treasures.

CHANGE IN DATES FOR INTELLIGENCE TESTS

The mental alertness and social intelligence tests to be given all new students of the University, whether Freshmen or upperclassmen, will be given the full time students on October 7, at 10.05 and the part time students on October 6, at 5.10. The classes in each instance will be divided into two sections, one-half taking the test in Corcoran Hall, room 1, and the remainder in the gymnasium.

BISHOP OF LONDON WILL SPEAK HERE

English "Bobbies" Bishop" to Talk October 29th at Evening Meeting

INGRAM TOURING COUNTRY

Favored Preacher in London At Palace and Poor House

England's noted prelate, the Rt. Rev. Arthur Foley Winnington-Ingram, D. D., the "London Bobbies" Bishop," whose particular appeal is to young men, will speak at George Washington University on the evening of October 29. Bishop Ingram is making a tour around the world, and is addressing men and women in the leading colleges and universities of the United States. Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Princeton, Virginia Military Institute, Wisconsin and Northwestern are some of the colleges on Bishop Ingram's list.

Although he has reached his sixty-eighth year, the Bishop still retains his interest in athletics. He carries his tennis racket and golf clubs on his trip, for he writes "I want to see something personally of the young men of the country. I can do this better if I have time left to play games with them."

Science and Religion

Bishop Ingram has a very lively appreciation of the intellectual difficulties of the college student. A few weeks ago he said, "There is no contradiction between science and religion. You can not discover too much because no truth can contradict itself." Preaching to the King and Queen of England for many years has not prevented the Bishop from working in the poorest sections of London. For his work in the slums he has earned the title of "London's greatest missionary."

George Washington's Episcopal Club will have the privilege of making the arrangements for the Bishop's address at the University. Tickets may be reserved by leaving name and address at the office of the Registrar or the office of the Dean of Women.

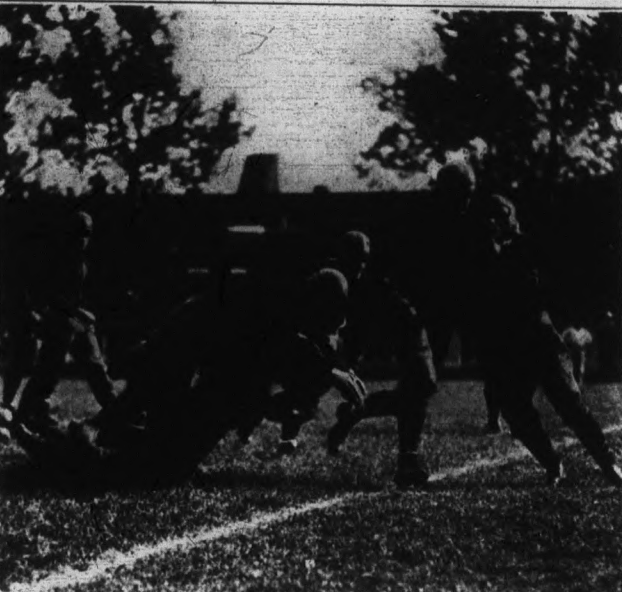

GEORGE AND MARTHA TO ATTEND ROLL CALL

Army Band Will Furnish Music And Good Speakers Promised

Arrangements for the fourth annual Roll Call of the University are almost complete and the committee in charge will have everything ready for the students on the evening of October 11. The Army School Band composed of twenty-five pieces and led by Manuel Commulada, a George Washington University student, will furnish music for the occasion.

George Washington and Martha Washington will be present. The Glee Club is to be asked to sing. The speakers for the evening have not been announced, but it is understood that they will be men of national prominence.

NEW DORMITORY OPENS SATURDAY

Few Rooms Are Available in Marion Apartment House

ROOMS WELL FURNISHED

Miss Hopkins, Director of Girls' Athletics, is Appointed House Mother

Dormitories for the women students of George Washington are at last a fact. Under the direction of Dean Anna L. Rose, one department on the third floor and another on the fourth floor of the Marion Apartment House, 2000 H Street, have been tastefully decorated, and will be ready for occupancy on Saturday. There are some single rooms and some double rooms. The appointments are of walnut and wicker.

Each room will have among other furnishings a walnut chest of drawers with a polychrome mirror, a table desk, and colonial rag rugs. This will enable the girls to arrange colour schemes according to their individual tastes. There is a living room in the third floor apartment furnished in rose and gray. The living room has comfortable and attractive furnishings and lights.

Rooms Nearly Full

There will be no preference to any class in the dormitory. There is, however, accommodation for only a limited number of girls, and Dean Rose has received almost enough applications to fill the rooms.

Miss Hopkins, director of Physical Education for Women, is to be the "House Mother." Rules for the girls will be announced when they take possession of the rooms.

Although no definite plans have been announced, it is generally expected that there will be a party for the House Mother and the new "dorm girls."

Lewis Pays Tribute To Dr. Schoenfeld

Tittmann, Noted Bass Soloist, Gives Selections at Chapel Wednesday

President Lewis opened assembly on Wednesday with a tribute to the late Dr. Schoenfeld, characterizing him as "a gentleman of the old school." Dr. Lewis then spoke of Dr. Charles Elliot, of Harvard, and suggested one of Dr. Elliot's mottoes as suitable for all students. The motto is: "I will study and prepare myself, and someday my opportunity will come."

Charles T. Tittmann, bass of the Washington Opera Company, was the guest at this assembly. Mr. Tittmann's program included "Vi ravisio," from Bellini's opera "La Sonnambula," and three sea ballads, "Mother Carey," "The Port of Missing Ships," and "Trade Winds." Mr. Tittmann concluded his recital with "Song of the Volga Boatmen."

CHI SIGMA GAMMA ELECTS

Chi Sigma Gamma, Chemical Sorority of George Washington University, has recently elected officers for the coming year. Pearl Mahoney will occupy the chair of president, and Eleanor Folsom will act as secretary.

ROOM BUREAU ESTABLISHED

A room bureau has been established to help George Washington students. All the places offered are personally inspected. Further information may be obtained in the office of the Dean of Women, Building 8.

REPAIRS MADE AT MEDICAL SCHOOL

New Library and Enlarged Museum Feature Improvement in Facilities

DONORS TO G. W. LISTED

Tablet Lists Gifts to School; New Appointments to Faculty for 1926-27 Session

Many improvements in the facilities of the George Washington Medical School have been made during the summer months, and are available now for the students entering the 1926-27 session. Among the most outstanding features are a new library, with new library equipment, and the enlargement of the museum, with new equipment added for specimens and the post-mortem room.

The old library has been equipped as an anatomical study room with models, charts and x-ray display cases. The Pharmacological and Physiological laboratories have both been remodeled, and there is a new amphitheatre with improved equipment. The Pathological laboratory boasts a new tissue sectioning room.

There is now a marble slab in the main corridor of the Medical School building, containing a list of endowments and gifts which have been made to that school, and sometime this winter there will be hung in the new library a portrait in oils of Walter Reed, A. M., M. D., LL. D., on which the artist is now at work.

Dr. Reed was connected with the G. W. U. Medical School from 1895-1902, as Professor of Bacteriology and Pathology, and his investigations during the time he was here determined the method of transmission of yellow fever, making its prevention possible.

A number of new appointments to the faculty have recently been announced for the 1926-27 session, including Dr. William Cabell Moore as Professor of Medicine, Dr. Robert J. Bosworth as Associate Professor of Physiology, Dr. James I. Boyd, Instructor in Chemistry; Miss Laura Chadock, R. N., Mr. Cliff Berger, Instructor in Bacteriology, Dr. William Marshall Bland, Clinical Instructor in Medicine, Dr. Fred O. Coe, Clinical Instructor in Roentgenology, and Dr. LeRoy L. Sawyer, Clinical Instructor in Ophthalmology.

GIRLS' RIFLE SEASON TO OPEN OCTOBER 15

Girls' Varsity Rifle Team begins practice on October fifteenth. Although the loss of Edna Kilpatrick and Sophia Waldman will be keenly felt, the manager, Emyrtrude Valden, expects most of last year's team back and more good material is looked for in the Freshman class.

A letter has been received from the University of Maryland challenging the team to a match to be shot on the fifth of March. Action will be taken later on the matter.

LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

The editors of the literary supplement of the Hatchet, which will be published in the near future, ask the cooperation of the Hatchet readers in submitting contributions of appropriate nature. Plays, short stories, poems, humorous articles and book reviews are especially desired. Although it is not absolutely necessary, it is better to submit manuscripts typed—double space. Articles should preferably be signed and class numerals added to the name. Send all contributions to the Literary Editor of the Hatchet.

URSINUS GAME TO AID CAMP MEMORIAL FUND

George Washington will participate in the Walter Camp Memorial campaign by featuring the Ursinus College game here on November 6.

This game will be known as the Walter Camp game, and a percentage of the gate receipts will go as a contribution to the $300,000 memorial at New Haven.

It is expected that the Washington Yale Club and other organizations will join with George Washington University in making this game an outstanding event.

SOPHS ANNOUNCE FRESHMAN RULES

Blue Key, Sophomore Organization, to Enforce Six New Rules

CAPS PUT ON SALE TODAY

University Recognizes Society and Fraternity Goatsmen Will Cooperate in Enforcement

Freshmen regulations, designed to keep the frosh in the traditional restraint and discipline characteristic in most colleges and universities, were posted about the campus by the Blue Key Club, sophomore vigilance society, Monday morning.

Deviating from the custom of former sophomore classes, only six rules, all of them very definite, were made. Former "vigilance committees" and sophomore classes prescribed ten regulations, and freshmen were barred from the north side of G Street rather than from the south side. The former regulation requiring freshmen to carry matches was also omitted. Freshmen will be required to wear caps, which will be placed on sale today.

Is Recognized

The Blue Key, far from being a sub-society organization, is recognized by the President's Advisory Council and the Interfraternity Council. William Quarton, president of the latter body, attended the meeting and urged that the several fraternities require their freshmen to conform to the regulations. Arrangements are at present being made with pledge-masters or goatmen toward the consummation of this end.

The fourth annual Roll Call of the University will occur Monday, October 11, at 5 p. m., on the campus. Following this, there will be a snake dance, led by the Blue Key, through the streets in the vicinity of the University. A pep meeting in the gymnasium will follow the snake dance.

THE RULES

1. All freshmen shall wear freshmen caps at all times when on the campus.
2. Freshmen shall keep off all the benches on the campus.
3. Freshmen shall keep away from Sorority Row on the south side of G Street.
4. Freshmen shall address all upper classmen as Mister and Sir.
5. Freshmen shall not smoke on the block bounded by G Street, H Street, 20th Street, and 21st Street, including both sides of these streets.
6. All freshmen shall use the north rear door of Corcoran Hall both for ingress and egress.

Stop, Look, Listen—and Obey!

CENTRAL CLUB TO ELECT

Freshmen and old members are invited to attend the first meeting of the Central Club, which will be held on Wednesday, October 13, for election of officers. The only requirement for membership is former attendance at Central High School of this city. All members are permitted to take part in the election. Time and place for the meeting will be definitely announced in the next issue of the Hatchet.

CAMPUS SHIEKS AND SHEBAS WANT TO WORK, SAY BUREAU DIRECTORS

Applications For Every Type of Position Have Been Filed In Office of New Employment Bureau Established This Year For Student Service

French teachers, waiters, shoe salesmen and nursemaids wanted! Or so would run the advertisement of George Washington's new Employment Bureau if it had to run one, a contingency which seems rather remote at the present time, for there are several times more applicants than jobs.

University students are growing less and less content with the simple life and more in favor of such complications as part time jobs, if the register of the Bureau may be taken as an indication. The applications show quite as much range as the jobs offered. Elegantly dressed campus shieks proclaim themselves willing to undertake anything from dancing instructions to manual labor; young ladies wearing the latest in Parisian styles assure the director of the Bureau that they can type "a little," and take beautiful care of children. Idleness and pure school-

Buff and Blue Stages Last Minute Rally to Overcome New Yorkers 10-7

STEHMAN SCINTILLATES

Hatchette Line Twice Holds Visitors For Downs in Shadow of Goal Posts

BY CAMPBELL STARR

George Washington's football warriors snatched the opening game out of the fire last Saturday afternoon, smashing their way to a 10 to 7 verdict over the College of the City of New York at the Wilson Memorial Stadium. A colorful crowd of 3,000 fans turned out to watch the two eleveners toil in the heat, but it was not until the last few moments of play that the onlookers made their presence known. The gallery suddenly came to life when Ivan Stehman, stocky halfback of the Crum-Davis outfit, carried the oval from midfield across the last white line for the points needed to sew up the battle.

The Hatchettes received the kickoff, and the game was less than a minute old when a fumble gave the ball to the Gothamites on the 30-yard line. A series of line plunges and a 15-yard run by Barkman placed the pigskin on the Buff and Blue 2-yard line. At this juncture the Crum defense braced and held the visitors at bay. Stehman punted out of danger.

George Washington soon staged a

FOUR THOUSAND NOW ATTENDING CLASSES

D. C. High Schools Well Represented in the New Freshman Classes

Registration is nearing the 4,000 mark according to reports received on October 1, from all the schools of the University. The count for the Department of Arts and Sciences has soared to 3,224 with approximately 200 from Medical School and over 550 from Law School.

Statistics reveal that there are practically twice as many new students as old and that the morning students outnumber the evening by a small margin.

Due to the institution of the late registration fee of $5.00 statistics show a sharp decline after the opening of school. The Registrar's office announces that all adjustments of courses must be completed by the 10th of October when a fine is to be put into effect for the dropping and adding of courses.

Central Leads

A study of the registration statistics show interesting facts concerning students of the University. Among the local high schools Central leads with a total of 86. Out-of-town schools come next with 59 and Eastern high meets third place with 37 representatives.

The District of Columbia leads the United States with a total of 2,005, every State having at least one representative. Virginia is second, sending 230 students, with Maryland a close third, bringing 209. Pennsylvania comes in fourth, with 89, and Arizona and Oregon tied for last place with one each.

A total of 259 foreign students bringing representatives from 21 countries. Russia leads the list with 18 envoys and England is second with 9. Students are registered from the following lands: England, Cuba, the Philippines, Mexico, Russia, Panama, Porto Rico, Japan, Italy, Canada, Denmark, Nicaragua, France, Germany, Sweden, Switzerland, Brazil, China, Poland, Nova Scotia, and Latvia.

WASHINGTON, D. C., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1926

IRONY

A constant fire of editorial comment and personal expression on the part of the Hatchet, the Razz Berry, the Petticoat and other student sources has been directed in the past few years towards the establishment of a School of Journalism at George Washington University. Petitions have been drawn up and sent to the President and students have expressed their belief that such an extension of the University would be in line with the need and developments going on in the National Capital and which should be reflected in her educational institutions. After the view was expressed that such a school was out of the question, for a few years at least, student opinion was turned toward the quite reasonable suggestion that a gradual extension be made along journalistic lines, adding a class or two wherever possible and thus building the foundation of a possible School of Journalism.

Notwithstanding this plea, and without any definite reason so far as can be noted, the day class in journalism, the only class offered for day school students, has been dropped from the curriculum this year, leaving only the night class. During the past two years the day journalism class has been filled to capacity, and last year students had to be turned away from it. The registration for both the day and night class last year was high, the day class alone running about forty-six students.

This class was well filled, it was liked by all who took it, and many students had planned to enroll for it this year. The University has a great number of problems to face in the selection of the subjects to be taught here, but surely when such a class had been well established and the trend among a good portion of the student body was toward even greater work in journalism, there seems to be utterly no reason for the dropping of such a class from the list. It is understood that the faculty member who taught the day class in Journalism resigned during the summer to accept a position with another University, but surely his place could have been filled before the opening of school. We do not want to seem too critical of the policies of the University and realize that a great deal has to be considered that is not always apparent to the layman, but it certainly seems in this case that the University is not catering to the student body by which it exists in dropping the morning class in Journalism.

A FROSH MIXER

It has been several years since a real, live Freshman mixer has been held at the University and it would be an excellent thing for the members of the class of '30 to come together in an informal gathering of this kind. A few years ago the Freshman mixer was a yearly affair and much that went to make for spirit and unity of class and University came out of it. Here the Freshmen come to know each other as brother and sister classmates; here the first feeling of unanimity is often born. If such a mixer could be held before the Freshmen elections it would enable the class to look more carefully over the field of aspirants for office and make more intelligent selections.

THE BLUE KEY

Announcement has been made of a set of rules planned to govern this year's freshman class, and at the same time to arouse in its members that feeling of class spirit which makes for class unity, not only in the class, but in the University as a whole. Members of the sophomore class have undertaken to make this project a success.

Already a week of school has passed and no freshman caps have appeared on the campus. Delay in this matter can be more disastrous to this project than anything else, for with the passing of time, the freshmen become more and more accustomed to the school routine and less and less likely to be impressed with a tardy sophomore demonstration.

The Blue Key is allowing its big opportunity for service to pass without a struggle. Unless some decisive move is made this week, it will be useless to make any at all.

Make the freshmen wear their caps, require attendance at all games and enforce it, demand the respect which an upper classman deserves from a freshman, force the freshmen into a real class organization which will be something more than a name, and the cornerstone of class unity and strength will be laid. This is not simply an opportunity for amusement for sophomores, it is a matter of vital importance to the University.

CLASS ELECTIONS

At this season of the year it is customary for the several classes of the University to come together in meeting and elect their officers for the coming year. Quite a bit of scandal has grown out of the manner in which class elections have been held at the University in past years and it certainly behooves those whose duty it is to call the elections and preside over them to do everything possible to have a full representation of the class on hand and to conduct everything in an open and above-board manner. Notice of the various meetings should be posted on the bulletin boards of the University and in the Hatchet several days before the meeting is to be held, thus giving the members of the class time to think over the candidates they wish to back and make arrangements to attend the meeting.

It is also desirable that the various class meetings be held as soon as possible, thus making known the class officers early in the year and enabling them to begin planning for the class functions that come later.

Freshmen girls were honor guests at two teas last week, the first given by the Pan-Hellenic Association and the second by Anna L. Rose, Dean of Women. The sorority girls, wearing no pins or other distinguishing marks, held their welcoming tea on the first day of school in the new Women's Club rooms. Dean Rose was assisted by the Women's Advisory Council in her first tea of the year.

Betty Jaquette was the guest of honor at three bridge showers last week. Mary Griffith entertained on Tuesday night. Mrs. Thomas Richardson on Wednesday afternoon at the Washington Country Club, and Dorothea Bealer on Thursday afternoon at her home. The guests were the active members of the Phi Mu chapter.

Dances opened the social year for two fraternities last Saturday night. The S. P. E.'s and Kappa Sigma entertained in their respective houses.

Lonnelle Davison entertained the active chapter of Phi Mu at a bridge on Saturday afternoon at the University Club.

The Sigma Nus entertained with their first dance of the season Tuesday evening, September 28. Dick Liebert furnished the music and in spite of wet weather outside everybody acclaimed the party "excellent."

President Lewis was the principal speaker at the Sigma Nu smoker held at the Chapter House, 1733 N. St., last Wednesday evening. Music and "eats" rounded out a very pleasant evening.

Elizabeth Bell, Isabella Bell and Suzanne Jamison motored to New York last week to visit Jessie Booth, who is now living at Governors Island.

Sarah Blue, national ex-president of Kappa Delta, paid a flying visit to the local chapter on Saturday.

Washington City Rho Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon announces the pledging of William Winstead, William Shreve, William Lickliter, Charles Van Meter, Roger Barnes, Lawrence Knapp, Allen Neil, Robert Buttruff, George Garber.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon opened their social season at their home, 3320 16th St. N. W., with the best rush dance noted in their history. Fifty-two couples danced to the "red hot tunes" of Jack Slaughter's Powhatan Roof Orchestra.

Martha Dunham, Chi Omega Alumna, was married to Howard Gordon, Kappa Sigma Alumnus, last Saturday evening. Dorothy Lewis, Chi Omega, was bridesmaid. While at G. W. Martha was very popular on the campus and captain of the Girls' Basketball Team for two years.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized on Saturday night when Miss Mildred Wilgus became the bride of Mr. Oscar Thompson. Mrs. Thompson was a student here two years ago and is a member of Kappa Delta. Virginia James, Elizabeth and Isabella Bell, Gladys Heller, Helen Woodard, Ardis Smith, Suzanne and Patty Ann Jamison assisted.

The Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity held two smokers at their chapter house on Q Street last week, one on Wednesday night and the other on Friday night. Professor Doyle, Professor Donaldson, Professor Kayser, and Captain Ghore were the principal speakers. Buffet suppers were served on each occasion.

MR. SCHATZ IS HEAD OF BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

Through an error in the "Chips" column of the Hatchet last week it was stated that Mr. Schatz, superintendent of buildings and grounds at George Washington University, was a janitor. Mr. Schatz has charge of the large force of men who keep the buildings and grounds of the University in condition and is not in any sense of the word a janitor.

ENGINEERING SOCIETY OPENS WITH SMOKER

A smoker opened the year for the Engineering Society last Friday night in the basement of the Law School. Over 100 members were present and many members of the faculty, including President Lewis, Dean Lapham, Professors Ames, Johnson, Randolph and Erwin.

President Lewis, in his brief address, declared that engineering entered into everything, even the duties of the chief executive of the University, as, for instance, when he found it necessary to make one ton of coal do the work of two.

SAMUEL TO SPEAK AT FIRST AVUKAH MEETING

Maurice Samuel, famous Jewish orator and author, will address the opening meeting of the George Washington Chapter of Avukah, student Zionist organization, to be held at the Jewish Community Center, Sixteenth and Q Streets, October 10.

Mr. Samuel served as a correspondent during the World War and was also a member of the Inter-Allegheny Reparations Committee. He is one of the leaders of the Zionist movement, and is an author of note. A musical program has been arranged for the evening.

BIG SISTERS TO GIVE PARTY FOR FRESHMEN

Y. W. C. A. To Hold First Meeting Next Friday Evening in Corcoran

The Big and Little Sister party, so much talked of around the campus, is to be given Monday evening, October 11, in the gym, immediately following roll call. The Y. W. C. A. plans and gives this party every year in honor of the freshman girls of the University, who are the guests of the occasion. It is always a gala event, the "Y"'s first party of the year, to which upper-class and freshman girls alike look forward. All Big Sisters are asked to bring their Little Sisters with them if possible, and freshman girls especially are urged not to miss it. The "Y" promises them a party they won't forget.

A buffet supper will be served to the guests immediately at 6 o'clock. Stunts and games are scheduled for later in the evening, and a delightful program arranged. The purpose of the party is to make the first-year girls feel at home in the University, and to help them get acquainted with each other and with their upper-classmates.

The first meeting of the "Y" will be held on Friday, October 8, at 1 o'clock, in Corcoran Hall, room 17. The reports from the Eaglesmere Conference will be given, and plans for the "Y" discussed. Any girls interested in joining the "Y" or in finding out about its work on the campus are invited to attend this first meeting. The monthly meetings will hereafter be called on the first Friday of every month.

The County Fair, which is put on by the "Y" every fall, is being planned for early November. As before, it will be held in the gym, in the evening. The money made by the "Y" pays its activities and pledges for the year.

BUSINESS ASSISTANTS

A number of vacancies still exist on the business staff of the University Hatchet. A liberal percentage is being allowed for advertising solicitation. A number of positions in the circulation department are also open.

Applicants should get in touch with the Business Manager at the Hatchet Office between 4.40 and 5.10 o'clock, or leave their name for him if they are unable to call at that time.

Chips

Williams' Shaving Cream gains another advocate. And a slight mustache is all that is left of the glory that was Prof. Sidney Smith's whiskers. Another landmark has passed! Sic transit.....

No, Roscoe, that wasn't a bargain sale at the Woman's Building last Wednesday evening. Merely a reception by the Lady Dean to the women of the University. We suggest that the Washington Auditorium be engaged for the next one.

S. R. O. sign hung out at the Chapel Wednesday! Will wonders never cease?

We won't know whether it was the force of the oratory or not, but nevertheless a freshman girl fainted in the opening assembly for the evening students held Monday, September 27, in Corcoran Hall. Perhaps Prexy had better stop emulating Patrick Henry.

Another case of "caught in the act" with reference to our esteemed President happened at the game last Saturday. The day was very warm and during a "time-out" period one of the G. W. men poured a dipper of water down the back of another player to cool him off. Our Prexy must have thought it a huge joke by his laughter.

on that occasion. Dean Van Vleck, who was seated next to the President, joined him in the laugh.

From the number of "dumb Dora" stunts that were pulled by the students in registering were all listed it would take our entire issue to print them. One bright lass filled out the blank exactly like the sample furnished her and was indignant when addressed later as "John James Smith."

Another bright one was pulled by a fair co-ed. When asked her name by Miss Hopkins, the woman athletic director, she replied in a rather sarcastic tone, "Will it implicate me in any way?"

When Stehman went over for the winning touchdown in the game last Saturday against C. C. N. Y., the G. W. stands went wild. Hats and programs flew in every direction and several people were forced to retrieve their headgear from the cinder track.

While the cheering at the game was not of the best, it was at least encouraging to see that some attempt had been made. The printed programs helped considerably as did the work of the cheerleader.

More than 350,000,000 incandescent lamps, with a combined light of nine billion candlepower, make city streets, stores, and homes brighter than ever before.

In bungalow or mansion, workshop or factory, dormitory or auditorium, there is no excuse for poor illumination. We have cheaper and better lighting in the electric lamp than ever before; for the dollar that bought 1,115 candlepower-hours of light with the carbon-filament lamps of 1886, now buys 16,200 candlepower-hours of light with the MAZDA lamps.

Not only more light, but correctly applied light, is the order of the day. The electric lamp, with its flameless yet highly concentrated light source, lends itself ideally to reflectors, shades, and screens. It is controlled light—safe light. And illumination becomes an exact science.

During college days and in after life, correct lighting must ever be of paramount importance to the college man and woman. Good lighting is the worthy handmaiden of culture and progress.

The General Electric Company is the world's largest manufacturer of incandescent lamps. And behind the G-E MAZDA lamps are vast research laboratories dedicated to cheaper and better electric illumination, and to the conservation of eyesight.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.

HOCKEY TEAM TO START PRACTICE

Three Afternoons a Week Will Be Devoted to Work And Study

INTERCLASS CUP OFFERED

Sweetbriar and William and Mary On Tentative Schedule of Games

The schedule for the girls' hockey practices includes three afternoons a week, with one meeting to be devoted to the study of the theory of the game, according to Virginia Hopkins, coach of the hockey squad. Practice will take place Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, from 2 o'clock until 4, with Tuesday set aside for the discussion of stick work and technicalities of play.

Interclass games will be scheduled as soon as the squads show form, and intercollegiate matches with Sweetbriar and William and Mary are contemplated. A cup has been offered by the Woman's Advisory Council and is now held by the Freshman team. The present Sophomore class, with a fast combination, are expected to put up a hard fight to defend their title. No games have been scheduled this year with schools of non-collegiate standing. This is expected to bring hockey to the front as one of the prominent fall pastimes, and according to Miss Hopkins, may be made a major letter sport if the teams prove competent. Three assistant managers are needed and applications will be accepted by Miss Hopkins in the gymnasium.

Track Aspirants Meet Friday To Start Year

Cross-Country Meet With William and Mary Tentatively Scheduled

All men interested in track and especially in cross-country running, have been requested to attend a meeting to be held in Corcoran Hall, Room 17, at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

A cross-country meet with William and Mary College is pending for October 23, and the turnout at the Friday meeting will largely determine whether this meet will be held. All who are not able to come to the meeting are requested to get in touch with Milton Dennis, manager, at 1707 Massachusetts Avenue N. W., or over Franklin 7663.

Last season the cross-country team had three meets and several of its members brought fame to the University by their success in outside contests. Maryland, Navy and William and Mary were met and held to very close decisions.

CRUMITES MEET BUCKNELL NEXT

Hatchetmen Journey to Lewisburg, Pa., Saturday to Tackle Bison Team

COACHES WORK SQUAD

G. W. Eleven Will Face Team of Seasoned Veterans Which Has Already Played Two Games

Coach Crum is anticipating a warm reception at Lewisburg, Pa., this Saturday afternoon when he sends his charges against the powerful Bucknell team.

The Baptists, under the guidance of "Uncle Charlie" Moran have been practicing since early in September, and are due to be in the best of shape.

In their first game, played September 25, the Bisons opened their season rather auspiciously with a 53-0 victory over Blue Ridge College. This encounter showed up a number of imperfections in the working of the Orange and Blue machine. It is certain, however, that these rough spots have been smoothed out.

Lost to W. and J.

While the Hatchettes were taking the measure of C. C. N. Y. last Saturday, the Moran outfit suffered a trouncing at the hands of Washington and Jefferson. The score was 17 to 2.

According to reports, the Pennsylvania team is as good, if not better, than the aggregation which defeated the Buff and Blue last year by a 21 to 0 score.

Blaisdell, Goodwin and Diehl, three sterling backs, will be in the lineup, as will Trimmer, an end, whose specialty is field goals.

Bucknell is rated among the best eleven in the East, and a victory over the Bisons would prove quite a feather in the caps of the Hatchet coaching staff.

Approximately 20 men are making the journey to Lewisburg. The G. W. mentors are working to perfect their offense, as it is expected that wide end runs and long off-tackle smashes will cause the Baptists considerable annoyance.

AXEMEN DEFEAT CITY COLLEGE IN OPENER

forward passing attack which was unproductive, the heaves being intercepted whenever the Hatchettes threatened.

Crum Men Score First

Shortly before the end of the half a beautiful pass, Stehman to Perry, netted 30 yards. A thrust at the line failed, and Stehman dropped the ball over the bar from the 25-yard line. The score at the end of the half was 3 to 0.

At the start of the third period, City College carried the ball to the Hatchets' 2-yard line, where a short pass, Raskin to Barkman, netted a touchdown. Raskin added the extra point by a dropkick, making the count 7 to 3 in favor of the New Yorkers.

Up until the final two minutes of play numerous exchanges of punts and forward passing attempts marked the activities of both eleven, neither being able to gain consistently until Stehman took Josephberg's punt and started the trip down the field that resulted in victory for the Hatchetmen.

The game which was rather listless at times, was a typical early season affair. Both teams were bothered by the heat to a considerable extent. In spite of this the Crum aggregation displayed a certain smoothness and precision which is seldom seen in opening encounters. Yet there are several spots in the Hatchet machinery which need polishing up.

Teamwork Good

Although Stehman was hailed as the mainstay of the Buff and Blue offense, the eleven showed clearly that it is not a "one-man" team. Teamwork characterized the entire tilt.

Wisener, in the pivot position, was one of the bulwarks of the defense, while Hotel and Athey, both veterans, gave good account of themselves at guard.

R. Clarke, Viethmeyer and White looked a shade better than the other tackles. They opened up wide holes in the visitors' forward wall, and were usually down the field under punts.

Allhouse and Perry, the latter a newcomer, appeared the best wingmen, although Haun and Carey acquitted themselves in fine style.

In the backfield, besides Stehman, Coleman was the outstanding player. He was hard pressed for the honors by Lehman and Harris. Lehman looks good as a broken field man, while the latter crashes off tackle in a most approved manner.

Raskin plainly overshadowed the rest of the boys from the "big town." It was he who bore the brunt of the New Yorkers' attack. The visitors' line averaged 190 pounds, and "Tige" Seidler constituted a large part of it.

Lineup and summary:

G. W. U. (10)	C. C. N. Y. (7)
Allhouse	Seidler

GIRLS' FENCING TEAM MAY STAGE MATCHES

Practice to Begin Under Direction Of Professor Lanzelli

Plans are being made to select a fencing team to represent George Washington in matches with the teams of other schools, according to Florence Merriam. Fencing practice has not yet begun, but the opening meeting will be held very soon. The time and place of meeting will be posted, or announced in the Hatchet.

The various classes in fencing are held at the studio of Professor Lanzelli, 1521 K Street. This sport is very popular among the co-eds of the University, and a large number are expected to report. Professor Lanzelli is one of the best fencing masters in the city, and it is expected that a fine team will be developed.

All girls who are interested are asked to watch the Hatchet for notice of the first meeting.

WOMEN'S FALL TENNIS TOURNAMENT STARTED

Women's Tennis opened its fall season on Monday, October 4, when the first round of the singles tournament for the G. W. Club cup got under way.

Each round is to have five days for play, with all matches to be defaulted if they are not run off in this time. The ten leaders of the tournament are to make up the varsity team, and it is expected that there will be heavy competition for the places, judging by the amount of good tennis material that has come out for the sport this year.

PLAYERS TO GIVE FIRST SHOW SOON

Meeting Will be Held Tonight For Old and New Members in Stockton

TROUBADOURS TO MEET

Vodvil Planned for Fall Instead of Part of Annual Spring Festival

The first meeting of the Players will be held in the rehearsing room in the basement of Stockton Hall, at 8:00 p. m. tonight, at which time all Freshmen and students new to the University interested in the production of straight drama are invited to meet with the old members of this club. The first play to be produced this year will be "The Whole Town's Talking," and rehearsals will commence at once.

A meeting, for regular members only, will be held in room 29, Corcoran Hall, at 7:30 tonight, immediately preceding the meeting in the Law School.

The annual Vodvil show will be produced this Fall, rather than at the time of the usual Spring Dramatic Festival. Those interested in putting on acts are urged to watch for notices on the bulletin boards and in future issues of the Hatchet.

Larry Parker, of the Troubadours, announces that their first meeting will be held within the next two weeks, notices to be posted and to appear in the Hatchet.

FARNHAM SPEAKS ON SERVICE IN CHAPEL

"Too many people today spend their time thinking of destination instead of destiny," said Reverend George Farnham, head of the Public Speaking Department at Chapel Friday.

Reverend Farnham stressed the fact that the time required to attain a destination is relatively unimportant compared with the opportunity to assist someone along the way. To illustrate his point he showed that although the thief made much better time than did the Samaritan in the famous parable, the latter was the hero of the story. "While service is the main lesson taught in the parable," the speaker concluded, "attention to the small things is shown to be necessary also."

COIF FRATERNITY TO HAVE CHAPTER HERE

Legal Honor Order Has Acted Favorably on G. W. Law School Petition

The Order of the Coif, one of the leading honorary legal fraternities in the country, will soon be installed in the George Washington University Law School, according to Dean William C. Van Vleck.

Information of the favorable action of the Order of the Coif, concerning the admittance of George Washington University to membership was recently received by Dean Van Vleck from Professor M. T. Van Hecke, of the University of Kansas Law School. Elaborate installation exercises are being planned and will take place some time in the very near future.

The purpose of the organization is "to foster a spirit of careful study and to mark in fitting manner those who have attained a high degree of scholarship." Much gratification is being expressed in University and legal circles upon the admission of George Washington to this fraternity.

The highest 10 per cent of the graduating classes are eligible for membership. Coif occupies among law schools a somewhat similar position to that of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Psi. The national president is Professor W. W. Cook, of Yale University.

New Members Are Added to Faculty

Additions Made to Staffs of Home Economics, German, English, and Commerce Departments

With the opening of the new year several additions to and changes in the faculty are seen.

Edwin H. Sehr, formerly of Gettysburg College, has been appointed Professor of German at George Washington University. Professor Sehr, a prominent scholar in the field of Germanics, is a Ph. D. of Johns Hopkins University. He has spent a number of years in Germany. Last year he published a monumental dictionary of Old Saxon, which has been most favorably received.

Douglas Bement comes to the English Department as Instructor from the Hill School, Pottstown, Pennsylvania. Mr. Bement is a graduate of Yale University and of the University of Michigan. Besides his work at the Hill School, he has been a member of the staff of the "Golden Book."

Mrs. Blanch E. Hyde has been added to the staff of the Home Economics Department. She will conduct classes in Textiles and Clothing. Mrs. Hyde has taught four years in the high schools of Newton, Massachusetts, and six years at Peabody Normal School, Nashville, Tennessee. For the past four years she has been State Clothing Specialist in the Agricultural Extension Service of Colorado. She is the author of a number of bulletins issued by the Service.

Forest A. Young, Instructor in Commerce and Economics, who has studied in London, Egypt, and at the University of Chicago, and Watt Stewart, Fellow in History, complete the list of new faculty members.

TEAM PICKED TO MEET CAMBRIDGE DEBATERS

Her, Prof. Arnold, Prof. West and Rev. Farnham, who acted as judges. The G. W. U.-Cambridge debate will be the last one for the English team before they return to their country. The George Washington University team met Cambridge for the first time two years ago, when they lost a decision to them by a vote of 683 to 442. The year before the first international debate was held, the Hatchette forensic stars getting the decision over the Oxford team.

Last year the Buff and Blue won again over another Oxford team, getting a slim majority of six out of the more than nine hundred votes cast. John T. Trimble was a member of last year's victorious team and as manager this year expects to lead his men to victory over the invaders.

GYM SCHEDULES MADE FOR FROSH

Excuse Allowed Only on Doctor's Certificate or For Team Members

THREE CLASSES A WEEK

First Assignments to be Made From Schedules Submitted by Freshmen

Full-time freshmen will henceforth be compelled to attend Physical Education classes, and only a doctor's certificate as to their inability will excuse them, according to statements made by Athletic Director Crum and Professor Henry Gratton Doyle at the first meeting of the class, held in Room 1 of Corcoran Hall, last Saturday morning.

Freshmen who report for football, basketball or similar sport, will be exempted from these classes, however, during the season of the respective sport, according to the coach. Men who attended the class were required to fill out data cards, stating whether they intended to come out for any sport, and giving their class schedules, so that they may be assigned to classes.

Hornaday to Lecture

All of the classes will be held on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday mornings, those on Tuesday and Thursday being devoted to gymnasium work, and a period at 11:05 Saturday morning consisting of a lecture on Hygiene by Dr. Frank A. Hornaday, of the Medical School.

With the putting into effect of this regulation, George Washington University follows the trend of American colleges toward physical education, nearly every college and university of consequence in the United States making "gym" work a required freshman subject.

In pointing out to the freshmen that the "gym" work would be absolutely compulsory, Coach Crum stated the necessity of making out the schedules properly. In any doubtful case, he said, the student's program on file at the registrar's office would be checked to correct the misstatement.

First assignment of students to the gymnasium classes will be posted on the university bulletin boards Tuesday morning. The work will be carried on under the direction of assistants whom Coach Crum will appoint later.
